The ASU Small Business Development Center assists many small businesses with finding financing for their business through face-to-face advising. Our advising is free and confidential. In addition they conduct a free monthly seminar titled Financing Options for your Small Business that discusses financing options available. We hope you find this guide useful. 7(a) Small Loan Advantage The small business applicant applies for financial assistance from an SBA approved lender. The lender decides if the request will require an SBA guaranty. To help the lender decide creditworthiness for lower-dollar loans, the lender can obtain certain data from the applicant and then get a pre-qualification indication from SBA as to the acceptability of the applicant for a loan guaranty. If the pre-qualification comes back positive, the lender may complete a streamlined credit memo and make a formal request to SBA for guaranty. Small Loan Advantage is structured to encourage existing SBA lenders to make lower-dollar loans, which often benefit businesses in underserved markets. Loans up to $350,000.

<http://www.sba.gov/content/small-loan-advantage>

7(a) Community Advantage is an initiative aimed at increasing the number of SBA 7(a) lenders who reach underserved communities, targeting community-based, mission-focused financial institutions which were previously not able to offer SBA loans. Most Community Advantage loans will be approved within 5 to 10 days. Community Advantage features streamlined paperwork, with a two-page application for borrowers. Community Advantage is open to mission-focused lenders, including Community Development Financial Institutions, SBA's Certified Development Companies and SBA's nonprofit micro-lending intermediaries. Loans up to $250,000.

The newest approach to small business lending is cash flow lending. Existing small businesses are approved based on their ability to generate cash flow, and not looking at their credit score. Loans are from $5,000 to $150,000 and decisions are made quickly. Payments are taken daily from business bank account.

Social Lending

Social lending sites, also called peer to peer lending sites, provide borrowers and lenders a marketplace. Social lending sites connect individual lenders and borrowers through a social network that is streamlined, efficient, and legally formatted. The growth and maturity of the social lending industry in the last couple of years has made it a viable alternative to traditional lending or borrowing money from friends or family.

Kiva is a non-profit organization with a mission to connect people through lending to alleviate poverty. Leveraging the internet and a worldwide network of microfinance institutions, Kiva lets individuals lend as little as $25 to help create opportunity around the world. The borrower meets with the Field Partner and requests a loan. The Field Partner disburses a loan to the borrower. The Field Partner uploads the loan request to Kiva, it's reviewed by a team of volunteer editors and translators and then published on Kiva.org Kiva lenders fund the loan request, and Kiva sends the funds to the Field Partner. The borrower makes repayments and the Field Partner sends funds owed to Kiva. Kiva repays lenders.

EQUITY OR INVESTOR FINANCING

“Angel” Investor Networks (providing equity financing)

Angel networks are groups of high net worth individuals seeking newly formed businesses to invest their own money. Most are former business owners and managers. They make their investments individually but often work together on conducting their investigation or “due diligence” on a business they are considering for an investment. They may also offer guidance and contacts for the business. In addition, most networks in Texas are part of a loose federation of angel networks called the Texas Angel Network. They often encourage entrepreneurs to present to networks within Texas in order to “fill out” their funding needs. Angel investors typically get their return on investment when the business sells or some other purchase of their shares.

Crowdfunding

Crowdfunding is a relatively new funding option in which entrepreneurs use an internet-based launch site in order to promote their innovative ideas and give perks for funds. These ideas range from business ventures to science experiments, and include proposals from various people such as artists, poets, singers, songwriters, politicians, dancers and philanthropists. In essence, there are no limits to crowdfunding.

How does crowdfunding work? Crowdfunding begins when an innovator posts a project or an idea online for the world to see. This state-of-the-art method has opened the door for entrepreneurs, not only reducing transaction costs of business, but broadening the potential audience. Once the idea or proposal is posted, millions of potential donors are able to contribute to the project if they so choose. Those who opt to donate are afforded the opportunity to provide valuable feedback and advice for the project, in order to make a more user-friendly and customized product. See the following websites for more information. There are many more.

Venture Capital

Venture Capital investors differ from angel investors in that they are a firm that invests other people's money in high growth potential firms. Typically they want a large ownership share in the business and a say in the management and direction of the business. They get their return in the same way as angel investors but have usually invested a larger sum of money in the business. They also typically invest in the stages after angel investors when a business is ready to grow substantially. Venture capital firms are in larger cities in Texas such as Austin, Dallas, Houston.

Small Business Investment Corporations (SBIC's)

The SBIC Program is one of many financial assistance programs available through the U.S. Small Business Administration. The structure of the program is unique in that SBICs are privately owned and managed investment funds, licensed and regulated by SBA, that use their own capital plus funds borrowed with an SBA guarantee to make equity and debt investments in qualifying small businesses. The U.S. Small Business Administration does not invest directly into small business through the SBIC Program. See the link below for SBIC's in Texas. Also visit the SBA website for more information on SBIC's.

FACTORING

Factoring (definition taken from Wikipedia) is a financial transaction whereby a business sells its accounts receivable (i.e., invoices) to a third party (called a factor) at a discount in exchange for immediate money with which to finance continued business. Factoring differs from a bank loan in various ways. First, the emphasis is on the value of the receivables (essentially a financial asset), not the firm's credit worthiness. Secondly, factoring is not a loan – it is the purchase of a financial asset (the receivable).

There are many companies in Texas that offer factoring financing.
